

16

A
Patrick's P O T,
AND A
S H A M R O G U E
FOR THE
P A T R I O T S
O F
I R E L A N D.

In Particular to the Right Hon. the Earl of KILDARE, Right Hon. HENRY BOTLE, Esq;
Earl of CARRICK,
Lord KINGSBOROUGH,
Sir RICHARD COX, Bart.
The Outed OFFICERS of STATE,
And the Rest of the most Honourable and Loyal BROTHER-HOOD.

Together with a Collection of
St. Patrick's TOASTS,
To his FRIENDS of IRELAND.

L O N D O N
Printed in the Year, 1754.

49

000

A

Patrick's P O T.

AND A

SHAMROGUE

FOR THE

PATRIOTS

O F

IRELAND, &c.

WE Patrick Tutelar, Saint and Patron of Ireland, together with our Renown'd Brother George Tutelar, Saint and Patron of England, to the above-mention'd Patriots send Greeting.

WHEREAS we have heard from Below, and the Fame hath Ascended even to our Seats of Bliss, that there are False-hearted Brethren among ye, who (regardless of those ineffimable and invariable Blessings, which we with indefatigable Labour procured you, when we were on Earth,) have have Sold your Rights, Privileges and dear Liberty's to the Foe, for a Grasp of Ore or Paltry Office, we therefore your Tutelar Saints have sent you this Public Testimony of our Approbation, touching your noble and honest Endeavours to Protect those Sacred Legacys Bequeathed to you by your Glorious Ancestors, from the Earliest of Times, and we the more approve and applaud your inviolate Attachments to your Principles in the Face of Losses, Injury's and Persecution, remember that Golden Beatude of your Christian Lawgiver.

Blessed are ye when Men persecute you, and revile ye for Righteousness Sake.

HE was Persecuted by Caiphas, and nobly went thro' the erdeal Trial, Evented Suspension, and the Cross. — Go on ye truly Virtuous and great Examples of Magnanimity, the only True and indelible Mark of Manhood, go on to Persevere, and be not Intimidated, fear not the Loss of Power, nor the Severity of a Prison, Abet each other, Support the Writers for their Country, Encourage their Worthy Intentions, and be the First to give them Assistance in the Time of Peril and Persecution.

WE should think ourselves wanting in that Duty, which we respectively owe to Freedom and her Cause, should we Omit so Golden an Opportunity of Testifying our Satisfaction and Applause of the Noble Push, the Mighty and Bold Struggle you have made in your House, towards establishing Liberty on her proper Basis:

Your Proceedings, have, from the Intrinsic Merit of them, rendered themselves Celebrated and Respectable, and tho' you have not availed yourselves of all that you Aimed at, yet, it must be owned, owned, what Men cou'd do, ye have done, ye have acquitted your selves like Patriots, in it's most incorrupt Sense; the most Remote from the Turbid Waters of Depravation;

YOU, no doubt, have Read with pleasure, in our Annals, the many and great Struggles which we have had with Tyranny and Oppression, what Battles we have Fought to Support that very Cause which you have so nobly Defended, so gloriously Espoused;

WHAT a number of Lives did the obtaining MAGNA CHARTA from King John, Cost England! how many layed down their Lives, rather than Resign that Inestimable Legacy Handed down to us by our Ancestors, and to be Transmitted untouched, as we received it, to our Posterity:

IT has ever been the Notorious Practice of every wicked Ministry to Extend the Powers of the Crown, that thereby they might Enlarge their own Fortunes, and Build upon the Public Ruins, the Foundation of their Future Grandeur and Opulence;

THAT Sacred Barrier which has been fixed between the Prince and the People, has always been attempted by these Schemists, who sometimes have carry'd their Ends, and at other Times have fallen under the Pile which they endeavoured to Raise,

TO Screen a Public Plunderer, has ever, and Invariably been the First Steps these Petit Tyrants took to Execute and Perpetrate their Iniquitous Designs, and why? because they first put such a Wheel in Motion, and made it Subaltern to their Future Motions. As such Men are always supposed supposed to share in the Common Rapine, they are Bound to Protect the Offender, in order to Silence his Fears, lest in a Fit of the Pannicks, he should Betray all; and discover the whole Perfidy :

THESE may be said to be the Receivers of Stolen Goods, who keep their Villainous Pads on the High-way, to Levy Contributions on the Public, but are of too high Rank, to Rob themselves openly.

THEREFORE we the more Applaud your steady Adherence and inviolate Attachments to the Principles of Integrity, and the strict Scrutiny you made in the Affair of N——/ J——es, Esq; was timely and nobly carried on,

WE heard here, what base Means were made use of, what detestable Methods put in Force, as well to Wheedle as to Intimidate you from that Scrutiny.——

WE are also Witnesses, of the great and noble Remonstrance deliver'd into his Majesty's own Hands on the Occasion, and indeed we Condoled with you on the Brow-beating which followed.

THERE is nothing we hold so much in Odium as the wretched Arts practis'd by the Minister to shut up the K——g's Ear, but here it was deliver'd Propria Mame.

WE apprehend, that any Person has a Right to deliver in a Petition to the K——g's own Hand, and that even private Complaints which are excluded ev'ry other Channel of Conveyance, may be thus transmitted,

JANE

JANE SHORE deliver'd a Petition into Richard Duke of Gloster's Hand, the Cruellest Prince on Record.

OF a much Superior Nature then, are the Complaints of a whole Nation, deliver'd into the Hands of an Amiable Monarch, who has ever made the good of his Subjects the invariable Rule of his Conduct.

WE don't know how it is, but your Proconsuls and Deputy's have ever played their own Game, not that of those who deputed them.

SAY wou'd a Prince who has Sat on the Throne near twenty seven Years with an unblameable Character, and who is remarkable for having ask'd nothing above his Prerogative, wou'd such a Prince give his D—— Commission to Protect a Notorious Rifer and Pillager, to carry things with a high Hand, to Establish Arbitrary Proceedings, to Brow-beat an independent House of Commons, to set up a Market for Venality, and a Custom-House for Corruption. To Eject Men from their Places, Men always reputed Upright in their respective Offices and strongly attached to his Majesty and loyal House?

No, these are not the Characteristicks of his Majesty nor we are firmly perswaded wou'd he have Tyrakny and Oppression.

Vissages and Dependence lord it in Ireland, and as much his Kingdom as England, and as much entitled to his Protection, if not more, as it seems, it stands in were in need of it.

The Wisdom of the British Legislature, thought fit to break the Yoke of Vassalage in Scotland, and to

to reduce the Clans from their Dependence on their Chiefs whose Power extended to sway their Lives and Fortunes.

How far from such an execrable Design your D—— Measures might have aimed, We shall not pretend to determine; but it seems he tryed one Expedient after another to fix the Yoke which your untoward and unwarrantable restiness cou'd not brook.

We hear, that that subtle D—— of yours rung the Charges of Corruption to carry his detestable Designs into Execution, and to subjugate the Necks of the People, long us'd to be Brow beat, but who had Courage to repulse the Invador.

Give us leave to Congratulate you on your joint Efforts and well designed Measures to oppose the Virulence of a Party formed to destroy you.

But, when you carried the lucky and most important Points, viz. the expelling a rotten Member, and rescuing from your Treasure Invasion, How Captious did the disappointed grow. Then it was they turned Men of Worth and shining Honour from their Places, an Action truly diabolical and expressive of the most moderate Pique and Resentment.

By the numberless and earnestness Addresses from your respective Counties and Boroughs, we come to know that you, in your House have spoke the respective Language which they intended you shou'd have spoken, and indeed We never looked upon our Representatives in any other Light than, merely as the Interpreters of our Wills and Inclinations.

When

When therefore instead of representing. we find they have Villainously misrepresented us and our Wills and Inclinations, that they have misinterpreted us and our Thoughts shou'd we not look on them, as justly they deserve, as a Pack of most abandoned prostituted K——s, who like the Bravoes in Italy wou'd cut our Throats for Hire : Besides the Man who wou'd take part and prostitute his Conscience for one Thing, wou'd as certainly from the same Motive of Avarice, stop at Nothing that was dictatcd to him from the Injunctions of his Employer, and it wou'd be equally indifferent to that prostituted venal Wretch whether the Injunction was to take a Purse, cut a Throat, rob a Church or sell his Country, and we send you the following Toasts to our Friends of Ireland, to shew you we above have an Eye to your Proceedings in that Kingdom from whence we drove all pernicious Vermin and poisonous Things by the Power of our Trefoil the Shamrogue.

When the two signs of representation we find they have willingly represented as well as Wills and Instructions that they have respected us and our Thoughts should we not look on them as really they deliver as a fact of most abundant proof that they have the power in their hands cut off from us this: Besides the Man who would take brotherly love for one thing and as certainly from the same phrase of a verse, that Nothing that was distant to him from the rest of the people, and it would be really in different to that position, and we should the position was to take a point, not a top a church or tell the Country, and we you the following words to our Friends of to show you we have not in five to you certainly that King, from whom we have all previous Vermin and common things, the power of our Tithes the Kings.

St. PATRICK'S T O A S T S.

- I. HIS Majesty King George with all
the Royal Family,
- II. No L—b, no Wooden Shoes,
- III. No Court Weather-Cocks,
- IV. Liberty-Hall in Mabbet-street, and a Lease thereof, from the Landlard thereof,
- V D—L— for ever, to the Enemy's of Ireland,
- VI May the Shamrogue flourish and Subdue by its Virtue all Virmin and Poysonous Things,
- VII. To the Galley's, all that wish well
to Subjection,
- VIII The Bastile and French Tyranny
to all Prostitute Slaves,
- IX The Inquisition to Venal Courtiers
and Turn-Coats,
- X May they who Prefer Subjugation to Freedom, have their Choice,

XI

- 11 May Adherence to Principle gain its Point in the End.
- 12 May they that Weather out the Storm
gain the wished-for Port,
- 13 Ship-wreck to those Mariners of State;
that are ever Crying—About Ship,
- 14 May Imposition meet Opposition,
- 15 May Mahomet never be able to Impose on the People of Ireland,
- 16 Mahomet's Alcoran to the Faggot,
- 17 May those who withstand not his Tenets, go to Fool's Paradise Circumcised,
- 18 The Spirit of Alcanor Possess every Friend of Liberty,
- 19 May a Friend of Ireland succeed the Chancellor of the Exchequer of England,
- 20 May a late Export, never be Re-imported.
- 21 That the Spirit of Liberty, may Conquer the Spirit of Faction, from Cai-phas the High-Priest, to G—F—
the Low Printer,
- 22 The Dublin Surgeon, that saved the Country Papers from being Burnt by the Common Hang-man,—
- 23 Kildare and Roger in the Chair,
- 24 May Malone and Cox,
Run down the Fox,

- 25 May the Nine Gores,
Wath Ireland's Doors,
- 26 May Ireland's Speaker,
Never Forsake,
- 27 May the Lpirit of Boyle;
Reclaim all bad Soil,
- 28 A Health to Brave Carrick;
As Bold as Guy Warwick,
- 29 Nor Kingsborough Forget,
'Tis but Gratitude's Debt,
- 30 A Clap for Tyrone,——
And for B——d a Groan;
- 31 May Fonny Magill,
Give B——n a Pill,
- 32 May a Cane drive L——;
To Dingle-de-couch,
- 33 Call Charon's Wherry;
To take over—P——,
- 34 May the Scribling Itch Fret;
The Finger of B——,
- 35 A Scold and a Whore,
To the Sodom Back-Door;
- 36 May Cox still PROCEED,
To make Perfidy Bleed,
- 37 May his Heart, Tongue and Pen;
Fight the Cause of good Men.

CLAPS

CLAPS

- 1 FOR his Majesty King George the Second,
- 2 The Hanover Succession,
- 3 The Royal Family,
- 4 Kildare and Liberty,
- 5 Roger and Ireland,
- 6 The Author of the Proceedings of the House of Commons Vindicated.
- 7 Earl of Carrick,
- 8 All the Patriot Lords,
- 9 The first Men that Leaped on the Stage
the Night of Mahomet,
- 10 The Performers that Night who Acted their Parts so well,
- 11 The Cane that Electrify'd D— L—
- 12 Johnny that Lick'd Charly——,
- 13 For Imprison'd Printers, that tell no Tales,
- 14 For the Country Writers,
- 15 For the Universal Advertiser,
- 16 For the Dublin Spy,
- 17 For Mrs. Ward, the Country Actress,

GROANS,

GROANS

- 1 FOR the Private Ship that Sailed
in the Night,
- 2 For the Merchant-Addressers and their Speaker,
- 3 For the Female President of the Beef-
Stake Club,
- 4 For the Mis-Manager of Smock-Alley,
- 5 For all bad Members,
- 6 For the Court Writers,
- 7 For the Lete—L—M—
- 8 For Tottenham's Boots,
- 9 For D—L— and Liberty Hall,
- 10 For the Dublin Journal,

F I N I S

1711

Advertisement.

WE have had lately a very extraordinary Meteor, attended with a very High Wind, in which several Vessels were Drove from their Moorings, but in particular the C — Frigate, R — M — Commander, which run foul of A — Stone Galley, G — H — Commander which drove his Bowprit into the Stone Galley's Stern, but was prevented from doing any farther Damage by the Piles.

